vicinity of Bean Creek. So far as heard from fifteen houses in the vicinity of that place were destroyed, some ten or twelve persons killed and an equal number fatally injured and large numbers badly. At the house of a farmer named Duffy, John Doerger and family were living. James Doerger and a was killed outright. Lizzie Doerger was fatally hurt and died in a few minutes. Her skull was crushed and a piece of timber penetrated her side. Mrs. Doerger was crushed to death by falling timbers and Mr. Doerger was fatally injured.

When the entire swept away. Nothing has been heard of Mr. Duffy, and it is supposed that his body was carried away by the cyclone. The horses were killed. At the house of Wm. Stranberg, Wm. Yostranger and his wife were killed. The house was swept bodily away. Wm. Yostranger was killed, his wife was badly injured, and his little girl fatally. Wm. Stranberg and his wife were injured. At the house of Ed. Norris, Gertrude Fletcher, a daughter of E. S. Fletcher, was injured. The house was blown away and injured. Caleb Norris was badly hurt and his wife seriously so. Willie Fletcher and his sister were instantly killed, and their bodies were horribly mangled.

At the same place Mrs. Emily Seal, a

Norris, mother of E. B. Norris, was killed. F. S. Norris was badly hurt. The house of Valentine Erdle was completely destroyed. The inmates had vacated the house and, notwithstanding the fact that the barn was blown down, but the family escaped. A horse standing in the road at that place was picked up by the police and killed and sent to the stock pen on the ground.

The house of Boston Kendall was destroyed. The house of Kendall was also killed at that place; also a house of George Fraze. Several hands in the vicinity of the barn and Rogers farm are also believed to have been killed. Their names are unknown. The house of Rogers farm was blown down. Kendall had a narrow escape. He had just left the house when the barn as the barn was blown down, and he was unhurt. The barn was scattered all over the fields. James Delaney's house was blown down.

The cyclone passed on the East, passing Rush Hill, one mile North, causing destruction everywhere. There is no doubt that great destruction of life and property has occurred further East. Great trees were taken up by the roots and broken off. The scene at these places is terrible.

was holding my baby in my arms when the cyclone struck the house. I was holding the baby and the baby was carried 100 yards away and landed against a tree. I picked it up and it was dead. I was the only family scattered in every direction." This he broke down amid the moans of grief.

The width of the cyclone was about 200 yards and as far as heard from the east to the west. The loss was over $50,000.

ANOTHER CYCLONE REPORTED.

The telegraph line on the Chicago & Alton, and also those of the Wabash. At 3 o'clock another cyclone swept across the Chicago & Alton at Ladonia, again cutting off communication. At both points great damage was done to houses, barns and trees in Ladonia, and many people were injured and some reported killed. Owing to the prostration of the wires further north,

NO ONE INJURED.

RED OAK, IOWA, May 20.—A serious cyclone is reported to have passed thro' the South part of Iowa, doing considerable damage to fruit and shade trees, fences and small buildings. No one was injured so far as is known.

His malady is one which ordinary

After Eating Stomach Bitters, affords the rheumatic a reliable means of relief. Check the malady in its incipient stages, when the first premonitory twinges come on, with this agreeable medicine and avoid symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. Requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely.

Bitters upon this malady, certain it is that no evidence relating to its effect is more direct and positive than that which relates to its action in cases of rheumatism. Like all sterling remedies, it stimulates the system, increases the good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

It is equally efficacious in dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred diseases.

For nearly half a century Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been the most this remedy proves it to be the very best specific for colds, coughs, and all diseases of the throat and lungs.
